Blood Donors' Age Lowered To 17

The minimum age of 18 for donating blood has been conditionally lowered to 17 it was announced today by Red Cross blood transfusion service.

Blood transfusion service officials say they have observed no ill effects resulting from 17-year-olds donating blood.

The one condition separating 17-year-old donors from the rest is that they must have the written consent of one parent, and as is the case for all donors must be medically fit to give blood.

Miss M. E. Dunlop Feted at Banquet

Miss Margaret E. Dunlop, retiring Coleman school teacher, was paid tribute at a special banquet held at the Turtle Mountain Hotel May 17th to mark the occasion of Miss Dunlop's retirement after 44 years' service with the Coleman Schools.

John Salus, chairman of Coleman School Board, while paying tribute to the teacher gave a resume of her life. Miss Dunlop was born in Lethbridge, but started school here in grade one.

She moved to northern Saskatchewan with her parents at an early age and returned to Coleman in 1917. She took all of her high school here and in 1921-22 attended normal school in Calgary. After teaching in Ardenville (a small country school between Waterton and Fort Macleod) she came to Coleman in September, 1922, and has taught here since.

After teaching in the Cameron School in West Coleman for one and a half years, she was transferred to the Central School where she spent the next four and a half years. She was then sent back to Cameron School where she has taught continuously for the past 38 years. She has been vice-principal for the past 16 years. It is estimated that at least 1,000 elementary students have been taught by Miss Dunlop.

Paying tribute to Miss Dunlop, Mr. Salus stated that it had been a constant source of satisfaction to the School Board and principal to know that Cameron School was in good hands, working smoothly, efficiently and effectively with a minimum of supervision.

Commenting on the estimated 1,000 students that passed through her hands, Mr. Salus pointed out that besides receiving a technical education, the students also absorbed some of Miss Dunlop's gracious personality. She has been a teacher, mother, nurse and confidante to the students.

After thanking Miss Dunlop and

First Payment on Centennial Project Approved

Coleman council, at its meeting, decided to contact the Horace Allen High School Drama Class with a view to getting this group to prepare and put on a play in conjunction with the Centennial Caravan Unit that will visit in Coleman in May, 1967.

Approval was given to the first payment of $650 to the Coleman Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion to start the ball rolling on the town's Memorial Park Centennial project. The Legion brought in the suggestion of building the Memorial Park after a locally-formed Centennial committee failed to come up with a suggestion.

Council has received a number of complaints regarding dusty conditions on a road used by the coal company. A second complaint of dust emanating from coal stockpiling around town was also received. The coal company will be contacted by the town with a view to getting the problem remedied.

Approval was given to processing the tax sale in town during the month of July. It was disclosed that 18 parcels of land would go on the tax sale.

The town secretary will write to the Union of Alberta Municipalities to obtain information on getting an insurance survey made in town with a view to obtaining wider insurance coverage at lower rates.

Coleman residents will be advised that if they so wish they may draw the interest on light and water deposits that has built up. Payment of interest on the deposits has been discontinued since December 31, 1965.

The matter of purchasing an amount of new equipment for the Volunteer Fire Brigade including hoses and other material, was tabled until next meeting.

It was announced that a Municipal Administration refresher is to be held in Banff on June 6 to 8. Coleman will not send a representative.

OTTAWA — A former Ottawa man, retired chief engraver of the Royal Canadian Mint, Thomas Shingles, and a Toronto artist, Mrs. Dora de Pedery Hunt, are the winning designers in the limited competition for the Centennial Medallion, Canada's Centennial Commissioner John Fisher announced today.

Mr. Shingles, who now lives in Victoria, and Mrs. Hunt, will each receive $1500 for their winning designs—Mr. Shingles for the obverse side of the Medallion and Mrs. Hunt for the reverse.

The Medallions, more than 5,500,000 of them, will be distributed to all Canadian school children—grades one to 13, as reminders of the Centennial Year and its significance to Canada and to Canadians.

The Medallions will be minted by the Royal Canadian Mint and will be made of red brass metal, an alloy of copper and zinc. They will be one and one-quarter inches in diameter or about the size of a silver dollar.

Distribution of the Medallions will be done through the co-operation of provincial departments of education and territorial governments.

In the case of the latter, many districts in far north eastern Canada which cannot be reached by water within the schedule for distribution of the Medallions will receive the Medallions far in advance of other Canadian centres, with aircraft of the RCAF making drops of packages of Medallions in the North late next autumn.

They will be presented to the school children on June 1, 1967, in simultaneous ceremonies with those held elsewhere in Canada.

Communities such as those to the northeast of Hudson Bay and north of Fort Churchill along the west side of the Bay, as well as such locations as Alert Bay and Mould Bay on the Arctic islands will receive the Medallions in this way.

Astronomers estimate that there are at least 100 billion stars in the Milky Way system.

SPARTON OFFICIAL FEELS

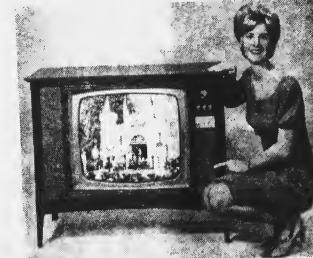

Color Will Have Impact On Economy, TV Sales

(First of a Series)

COLOR IS COMING TO CANADA — Not that our country isn't colorful, but the color is the reference to television.

Color television moved a step closer to reality recently when the Canadian Government gave approval to several stations to begin color programming on October 1.

What will be the impact of color television on the economy, on industry sales, on black and white television and on programming? Most important will be the impact on viewers and how they will benefit from startling breakthroughs.

Twenty-three inch and twenty-five inch consoles, such as this Sparton model, will be the most popular buys as viewers prepare for color casting in Canada this fall.

First, color television is anticipated to give the general economy in Canada real impetus. According to Nigel C. Edwards, president of Sparton of Canada, Ltd., manufacturer of home electronic equipment for almost 40 years, total television sales may rise more than 20 percent this year with the introduction of color casting.

Early 1966 industry forecasts are for sales of television receivers to break the $200 million for the first time in history. Some forecasts are to jump from $160 million to as high as $220 million.

Although color will be the motivating force in driving industry sales upward, black and white sales are not expected to suffer greatly, and still will be the predominant choice of buyers.

Sparton gathered statistics show approximate television sales as follows:

YR.	B & W	COLOR	TOTAL
64	$140	50	155
65	153	90	162
66	160	450	205

NEXT: Dramatic Breakthroughs.

TREES

SMOKEY'S NEWS RELEASE

The Tree is one of the greatest gifts to the welfare of mankind.

Its functions are many. It gives shade, beautifies the landscape and purifies the air. It regulates drainage, preventing both destroying droughts and devastating floods.

By exhaling moisture, it helps to maintain atmospheric humidity. It breaks the force of cyclonic winds. Its protection keeps the earth soft, fresh and productive.

It provides man with shelter, clothing, food and medicines. Through paper, to which men commit thought, knowledge is shared and the mind enriched.

The tree shelters innumerable plants and animals, which otherwise would become extinct. Its absence or presence literally determines the shape and character of continents as well as the type of men and animals which live on them.

Economically, the trees are indispensable. Take all the tree products out of our daily life and we would be a long time re-adjusting. Not a tree exists that is not engaged in some kind of manufacture.

Some of these manufactured products such as oil, perfume, gum, syrup, dyes, drugs, pitch, turpentine, tar, rubber, cork, fruit, beverages, etc., are commonplace; others are startling and strange.

The tree is one of the Magi of man's universe. Its gifts are many, its favors manifold. It has always been so, and if man, its trustee, is faithful to his obligations, it will continue to be so. Each citizen, however, must accept his personal obligation to do his share in helping to prevent the destructive waste of Canada's trees by fires—80 per cent of which are caused through carelessness.

A. M. A. Presents Brief To Alberta Cabinet

Resolutions advocating compulsory vehicle inspection, more accurate and effective methods of dealing with the drinking driver, and increased emphasis on High School driver education were the highlights of a brief presented to the Alberta Cabinet.

The delegation presenting these resolutions was headed by President Dr. James Lampard of Red Deer and George A. MacDonald, Executive Vice-president, who voiced the opinion of over quarter million members of the A.M.A.

The A.M.A. submission proposed introduction of a compulsory motor or vehicle inspection program to be operated by the Provincial Government and similar to the program now in existence in British Columbia. The A.M.A. commended the Government for introducing an inspection program but suggested that such a program must be compulsory to be effective.

The A.M.A. submission to deal with methods of removing the drinking driver from the highway emphasized the necessity for more research in this field.

Another A.M.A. resolution urged the Government to study possible methods of financing Driver Education programs in Alberta High Schools. It contends that the success of establishing such a program on a universal Provincial level depends upon making it available to all high school students and financial assistance is, therefore, imperative.

Other resolutions covered such areas as a Government assisted program for municipalities to deal with providing safety at rural intersections; a study of the rapidly increasing hit-and-run accident problem; placement of dividers on certain sections of Highway No. 2 between Edmonton and Calgary; improved service facilities on the new portion of this highway, and amendments to the existing Act that will standardize right turns on red lights at intersections in Alberta.

The A.M.A. brief commands the Government of Alberta for implementing legislation on many of its previous suggestions, particularly in such areas as reflectORIZED license plates and uniform Provincial traffic laws, and also in its very co-operative manner of granting interviews to the A.M.A. delegates.

Centennial Report

1867 1967

by JOHN W. FISHER
CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER

Report No. 5—

A television series about the drama of life in New York City used to end this way: "There are eight million stories in the Naked City. This has been one of them".

Around Centennial Commission headquarters at Ottawa we are beginning to look at Canada's 1967 celebrations in the same way.

There are many thousands of national, provincial and local projects underway across Canada to mark our 100th birthday and they all make stories. The big national projects alone are numbered in dozens — the Confederation Train and Caravans, a 4,000-mile canoe race, the Canada Festival, the Youth Travel program; programs for the performing artists, visual arts, folk arts, athletics, tree planting, new buildings for arts centres, museums and so on.

I am going to tell you in this column of one of the national projects about which I am quite excited. It is the Armed Forces Tattoo — the big, big cross-Canada show which will be presented by the Department of National Defence.

At the time of writing I am particularly excited about this event, because I have fresh in my mind an advance look at the program. At Centennial Commission headquarters recently Brig. C. Arnold Peck and Captain Ian Fraser of the Department of National Defence Centennial planning staff described the two-hour show — of which there will be 147 performances in 40 cities across the country — and provided story-board illustrations and taped excerpts of the stirring music especially composed for the Centennial.

I can predict that Canadians will be given a thrilling surprise when they see the Armed Forces Tattoo, which will be one of the highlights of the 1967 celebrations. The advance presentation which we saw and heard at Ottawa showed that the Forces' project is being conducted in a highly professional manner.

There will be 80 colorful selections in 12 major scenes of the Tattoo with static bands, marching bands, pipes and drums, scenes from history as far back as 1666, a naval gun-hauling race over obstacles, a drummer boy's idea of what war was like in 1812, 150 sailors dancing a hornpipe, action scenes on the battlefield — even an actual World War II Spitfire in an enactment of a Battle of Britain "scramble".

The Armed Forces Centennial team has done research deep into history, through the years to the period when the early French and British regiments were stationed in Canada, and they have produced not only the music of the regiment, but also the servicemen's songs of the canzonets and messes which also have been sung by the citizenry of yesterday and today.

Research also has been done for the Tattoo in Europe by Captain Fraser for consideration of the best military tattoo productions and techniques at Edinburgh and on the Continent. Captain Fraser, it has been pointed out, produced the Armed Forces show at the Seattle World's Fair which proved to be one of the highlights of that exhibition.

After seeing the very professional advance work done by the Defence Department's Centennial staff I do not hesitate to recommend that you watch for the date of the performance, whether it be an indoor one or an outdoor one, nearest to your area and be sure to attend.

'Pipeline' coal seen feasible in future

Transporting coal through pipelines is feasible, it has been claimed at the 16th Dominion-Provincial Coal Conference at Lake Louise.

In a paper prepared for the conference, J. A. Constans of Grenoble, France, and F. E. Parkinson of Vancouver, said the supply of fuels for large thermal plants presents complex problems for conventional systems.

The paper said, "In countries like Canada, the problem appears in an economic form."

The great power consumer areas of Ontario and Quebec are a long way from the coal fields of the west and accordingly . . . the cost of rail freight multiplies the original cost of coal by between three and six times."

"The possible repercussions of this fact on the Canadian coal market can easily be imagined, threatened as it is by the proximity of the coal fields of Pennsylvania."

"Studies . . . have shown that among the items making up the cost price of the hydraulic transport of a ton of coal, the actual transport item is low when compared with the processing costs at the delivery end of the pipe."

"It is just this problem which is the main snag encountered in attempts to design a system for transporting coal in Canadian oil pipelines. It may be said the cost of the hydraulic transport of one ton of finely crushed coal 31 miles at a rate of 2,000,000 a year is about $1 a ton . . .

"This cost, which includes preparing the mixture for transport . . . does not allow for any losses which may occur due to loss of efficiency in the burners from residual humidity on admission."

The men said transporting coal through pipelines for distances of six to 18.5 miles provide no special financial savings and could be higher than conventional methods, such as railways.

For distances of 25 to 62 miles it could be profitable in certain instances, while for distances beyond 62 miles "there can be no doubt as to the worth of hydraulic transport as a means of supplying coal to a steam power station and the process will certainly enjoy a very successful future."

fine spices.

The beans do not have to be soaked overnight, but are added to cold water, brought to a boil and simmered for two minutes, then left to stand on the back of the stove for an hour. After that they are re-heated and simmered until tender.

Serve the casserole piping hot from the oven with corn sticks made from a mix and baked at the same time. A crisp salad tossed in a prepared Italian-style dressing will round out a tasty dinner to satisfy even the keenest school day appetite.

LIMA BEANS BAKED IN TOMATO SAUCE

1 pound dried baby Lima beans
6 cups cold water
1 tbspn. butter, margarine or shortening
half cup onion, chopped
1 clove garlic, minced

half lb. minced beef (or six slices cooked and crumbled bacon or 6 cooked frankfurters or sausages sliced penny fashion) optional.

1 pkg. tomato vegetable soup
2 cups boiling water
one 15 oz. can tomato sauce
2 tbsps. Worcestershire sauce
1 ½ tsps. prepared mustard
1 teaspoon salt
1 eighth tspn. pepper.

Add beans to cold water. Cover, bring to boil and simmer for two minutes. Turn off heat and let stand one hour. Heat, then simmer until tender. Drain. Place beans in two-quart casserole. In saucepan, saute onion and garlic in melted butter or shortening for five minutes. Add minced beef if desired and stir until nicely browned. Stir in other ingredients, cover and simmer ten minutes. Pour sauce over beans. Bake in moderate oven, 350 deg. F. for one hour. Makes 6 to 8 servings. If crumbled bacon or sliced cooked sausages or frankfurters are added, instead of minced beef, stir them in just before putting into oven.
